

Abstract

Isolated human nucleic acids implicated in Parkinson's disease and the uses thereof, such as in diagnostic and prognostic methods and in pharmaceutical preparations.